"Extra-Fashioned."

Few People Realize How Much These Two Words Imply of Comfort and Convenience.

They refer to the manner in which the LEWIS KNITTING CO.'S UNDERWEAR is shaped to fit across the chest, around the thighs, legs, arms, hips and neck,—and mean—more fullness where the form requires it WITHOUT STRETCHING THE GARMENT.

Now that you understand this—think how great a convenience it must be, how really gratifying not to be obliged to "last," as they say of shoes, your flannels on your own body that they shall fit. Because they are TIGHT is no reason for believing that they FIT you, they do not any more than they would if they were loose. When your flannels are tightly drawn by stretching as they are tugged and pulled on—the fibre is drawn—the fabric is thinned, and the result is that there is constant tension and wear, to say nothing of the discomfort of tightness.

THE LEWIS KNITTING CO.'S GARMENTS are made in union suits, shirts, drawers, pants and vests, of finest materials, are comfortable, easily adjusted and pleasant to the skin. They are not expensive, and when the wear and tear (particularly the tear) on the ordinary flannels is considered they are economical. They are "Extra-Fashioned" to fit naturally, tailor-trimmed and the Original Derby Ribbed Dress Reform Underwear, and the only underwear containing Lewis Tension Yoke (patented), without which ribbed underwear is so unsatisfactory.

Mrs. Maybrick's Sickness Takes a Favorable Turn.

The Mother of the Imprisoned Woman is Allowed Only an Occasional Visit to Her Daughter.

LONDON, Dec. 13.—The Baroness de Rouques, writing from Woking, says of Mrs. Maybrick: "My daughter has rallied and can now retain food and is able to whisper to me a little. Yesterday she told the nurse that mother was the best medicine. She says she has tried bravely to do her share of the work imposed upon her by the prison authorities and had not expected different treatment, but every few weeks she fell ill, and out of the three years that she has been in prison, two have been spent in the hospital. In December, 1891, an attack of influenza entirely undermined her strength, and her cough, being followed by hemorrhage, made it too late to hope for cure." The baroness says that she will see her daughter seldom now as she will only be allowed to do so in case of a relapse, but she is thankful to be near her, hoping and waiting for the queen's mercy.

DEATH OF AN AUTHOR.

Sir John Bernard Burke Called to His Eternal Home—Name of His Works.

LONDON, Dec. 13.—Sir John Bernard Burke, Ulster king at arms and editor of the famous record of British nobility, known as "Burke's Peerage," died today in Dublin. Sir Bernard was born in 1815 in London, being the second son of the late John, and grandson of the late Peter Burke. He was called to the bar in 1839. He was the author of many works, including the "Landed Gentry," "Anecdotes of the Aristocracy," etc. In 1853 he was appointed to succeed the late Sir Wm. Betham as "Ulster king at arms" and "Knight attendant of the Order of St. Patrick." In 1854 he received the honor of knighthood. In 1867 Sir Bernard was appointed keeper of state papers of Ireland, and in the following year he was created a companion of the Bath. He was a writer of remarkable ability and industry.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

An Aged Huntington Lady Attempts Her Own Life.

Special to THE SENTINEL.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., Dec. 13.—Mrs. James Webb, aged about eighty years, attempted suicide yesterday by cutting her throat with a razor. She has been confined to her bed for some time and it was supposed that she was able to arise from her bed, but during the moment that she was alone, she sprang out of bed, opened a box on the floor in which her husband kept his shaving utensils, and securing the razor slashed her throat. Mrs. Webb has shown signs of insanity, so neighbors say, for a long time.

SLEET, SNOW AND RAIN

Interfere With Traffic and Telegraphic Communication.

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—Another storm of sleet and snow and rain combined is general throughout the west today and has caused an almost complete interruption of telegraphic communications. Neither of the telegraph companies can handle any but the most urgent dispatches, and press matter is at a standstill. The storm extends eastward into Pennsylvania and west beyond the Missouri river, and the outlook for better weather is not at all encouraging. Wires are down in all directions.

BAD WRECK.

A Coach Pitches Down an Embankment, Killing a Lady.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Dec. 13.—A local on the Pittsburg, Akron and Western railroad was derailed this morning near Carey, Ohio, and the passenger coach with a number of freight cars went down an embankment, killing Mrs. Mary Roberts. The wreck took fire and burned. The other passengers were not seriously injured.

HELD UP A TRAIN.

A Chesapeake and Ohio Train Robbed by Road Agents.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Dec. 13.—A special from Ironton, Ohio, says that the Chesapeake and Ohio east-bound passenger train was stopped by robbers Monday night, between Huntington and Guyandotte, W. Va. Two passengers were shot by the robbers, one of them fatally. No particulars yet obtainable.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Dec. 13.—One man dead and a man and woman dying is the result of the door of a base burner stove being left open and the drafts closed. The discovery was not made till 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon when a visitor to the boarding house of Dr. Borge smelled coal gas and on investigation found the dead body of Dr. Borge. G. P. Hoge and Mrs. Hoff are barely alive. After working over them all the afternoon physicians say their condition is still critical. Dr. Borge came here a year ago from Sweden. He was unmarried and thirty years old.

Four Italians Murdered.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Dec. 13.—A report reached here yesterday that four Italian miners working in the horseshoe phosphate mine near Jacksonboro were shot and killed by a padrone named Andreas. An armed band of Italians headed by a trial justice, are in pursuit of the murderer.

Forger Arrested.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Dec. 13.—Detectives yesterday arrested a man named George Levy, about twenty-five years old, for obtaining goods on forged orders. Levy is evidently a very clever crook, as letter heads of well known firms in Albany, Milwaukee, Bismarck and Washington were found upon his person. Levy claims to be a resident of New York.

SAVED BY PRAYER.

Evangelist Moody Says God Heard His Cry and Stilled the Waves.

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Sixteen persons who, a little over a week ago, were in momentary expectation of death, were among the passengers on the steamship Etruria, which came into port Sunday. They had been passengers on the disabled steamship Spree, that for forty-eight hours was a plaything of the waves a few hundred miles from the English coast.

The first of the group to come ashore from the Etruria was Evangelist Moody. He started down the gangplank at a dignified gait, but when he observed his wife and a party of friends awaiting him on the dock he almost ran the rest of the way. The moment he arrived in handshaking distance a dozen people surrounded him. He entered a cab, accompanied by his wife, and was driven to the Grand Central depot to take the train for his home at East Northfield, Mass.

Mr. Moody was asked if he believed the Spree was saved by divine aid, in answer to the supplications of her passengers.

"That I cannot answer," he replied, "but I know that our prayers were answered inasmuch as the waves were stilled and the Spree came safely to port. It was a great test and a great strain. In the dining saloon of the helpless vessel we prayed for succor. I think God heard our cry. I am sure he heard mine. I believe this, for I am a praying man. If I had been in doubt that he had not heard my cry could I have descended to my berth and slept, while a narrow plank or two stood between me and death?

"The prayer service in the saloon was a solemn event. Jew, Gentile, Roman Catholic and even skeptics were there. All prayed; there was no skepticism there, nor was there for five days afterwards. That prayer soothed the minds of those persons who stood at the brink of the grave and looked into it. Let any man be in that position for forty-eight hours and there will be a change of feeling in him.

"Yes, I think God saved us in our extremity."

Mr. Moody commended the fortitude and bravery displayed by the women during those long hours of peril. One woman, the mother of two children, he spoke of particularly.

"She is from Milwaukee, I believe," he said, "and her bravery during the ordeal put to shame the gibbering fear of some of the men. All the time we were drifting helplessly about she sat over her children watching them like a cat and ready to snatch them to her bosom should we become in greater peril. There was not a tremor in her face."

The Etruria brought 131 sacks of mail matter originally despatched on the Spree. Much of the printed matter is so thoroughly saturated as to be useless and will have to be destroyed, but all letters the addresses of which can be deciphered will be delivered as soon as they can be dried and assorted.

A MINISTERIAL CRISIS

Now Pending in France—Great Excitement.

PARIS, Dec. 13.—Another ministerial crisis is probably impending. The expose of M. Rouvier, minister of finance, with the Panama scandal, is believed by many to render necessary a reconstruction of the cabinet. It now appears that M. Rouvier was so closely connected with Reinach as to have been present with M. Herz at a final interview with Reinach, just previous to the Baron's death. This secret M. Rouvier has been carrying in his breast ever since that tragic event, and the exposure of the fact has caused a tremendous sensation. The Gaulios this morning gives details of Reinach's last hours. It appears that Reinach, after the final interview with Rouvier and Herz, finding all hope gone of any escape from exposure and probably severe and disgraceful legal penalty for his share in the Panama frauds, went back home, at midnight, and wrote several letters. After writing these letters Baron Reinach destroyed a number of documents. Then he swallowed poison which he had prepared and lay down to die, about 1 o'clock in the morning. Minister Rouvier has been summoned to give evidence before the Panama investigating commission of the chamber of deputies. Herz has also been summoned, but it is doubtful as to whether he will appear.

M. Rouvier, minister of finance, has just gone to the Elysee and presented his resignation to President Carnot. Great excitement prevails.

Last evening occurred the death of David F. Harrigan, at the residence of his father, in Pleasant township. Deceased was tortured with the ravages of that disease which is dreaded by mankind—consumption. He departed from this world at the early age of seventeen years, six months and twenty-seven days. The remains will be interred in the Catholic cemetery, at the St. O'Loysius church, near Sheldon. The funeral services will be held tomorrow at 10 o'clock a. m., standard time, Rev. Father Koerdt officiating.

H. O. Winter and W. O. McKinney, of Indianapolis, are guests of the Randall.

CORRIGAN'S TRIAL.

A Great Interest Felt in Its Outcome.

The Result and Developments of the Trial Will Affect the Influence and Life of the Church.

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—The diocesan criminal curia of Newark met yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mgr. Doane, in Newark, N. J., to try charges against the Rev. Patrick Corrigan, of Hoboken, N. J., involving questions of the greatest importance. The issues involved in this contest between the two powerful forces not only concern the Catholics of America, but every man who owes allegiance to the constitution of this country must feel profoundly interested in the outcome.

It may well be said that the trial and the causes which have led up to it are the most extraordinary events in the Roman Catholic church in this country. The most precious interests of the church are at stake. The result and the developments of the trial will affect the influence, aye, the very life of the church in this country.

On the side of the defendant, Father Corrigan, are arrayed every representative of the liberal and American sentiment within the Catholic church of this country. The opponents, whom Rev. Father Corrigan meets, represents the more numerous, and perhaps the more powerful, element within the Roman church in this country. Archbishop Corrigan is squarely and emphatically against Father Corrigan. A majority of the bishops and archbishops are either tacitly or openly antagonistic to Father Corrigan's cause. A respectable minority are yet noncommittal at this state of the proceedings.

The twelve counts upon which the Rev. Corrigan is arraigned before the curia, are as follows:

1. The publication in the New York Freeman's Journal and Catholic Register of October 29, 1892, of false statements in regard to the German-Catholic congress which met in Newark, September, 1892.

2. That in the same paper of the same date he falsely accused the members of the congress of treason to church and state.

3. That in the same paper of the same date he falsely and maliciously accuses the bishop of Newark with teaching the people to have actual hostility and disloyalty to the state.

4. That in the same paper of the same date he accuses the bishop of dissutation, insincerity and disloyalty to the holy see.

5. That in the same paper of the same date he falsely and maliciously accuses the said bishops, priests and laymen of presenting the church in this country as a foreign politico-religious factor to the American people, and as such to be abhorred, to the grave detriment both of the church and of the above persons

6. That in the New York Freeman's Journal and Catholic Register of Nov. 12, 1892, he falsely and maliciously, in a fable called "Utopia," accuses the present bishop of Newark of being dominated in the government of the diocese of Newark by Cahensly, of displaying the grossest partiality for the German Catholic laity and priests, and the greatest injustice and aversion to the English speaking clergy and people.

7. That in the same newspaper and on the same date, November 12, 1892, he wilfully, maliciously and falsely attributed to Bishop Wigger language and treatment claimed to have been used by him with regard to Irish Catholics and priests which are calculated to excite the fiercest national hatred of the whole Irish race against the bishop and so arouse a schism in the diocese.

8. That in the same newspaper and on the same date he falsely and maliciously attributed to the present bishop of Newark language and conduct which made him ridiculous, in a manner grossly insulting and tending to completely undermine his legitimate authority.

9. That in the same newspaper, and on the same date, he maliciously insults Archbishop Corrigan.

10. That in the same paper and on October 29 and November 12, 1892, he falsely and maliciously makes statements against the bishop of Newark.

11. Thet he has wilfully and contumaciously disobeyed and violated the precepts given him by the bishop of Newark in a letter dated November 15, 1892, and has moreover in his answer to said letter added new insults and injuries to the bishop and to the German American priests and people.

12. That he has willfully and maliciously violated the decree, No. 231, of the Third Plenary of Baltimore, by his publications in the New York Freeman's Journal, of October 29, 1892, and November 12, 1892.

The Rev. J. J. O'Connor, vicar general of the Newark diocese and professor of dogmatic theology in the diocesan seminary at Seton Hall, is the judge, and Father Corrigan is represented by the Rev. Richard La Lor Burtsell, of Rondout, formerly pastor of the Epithany church, in New York. Father Corrigan wanted Archbishop Satolli, the papal delegate, to judge the case, but his request was overruled.

The trial will be a secret one and it is probable none of the proceedings will be given out for publication.

McKensie Defeated Herget.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Dec. 13.—Lightweights George McKensie, of Australia, and George Herget, of San Francisco, brother of "Young Mitchell," the famous middleweight, fought to a finish at the Palo Alto club last night. McKensie had decidedly the worst of the fighting the first few rounds, but took his gruel gamely, and won after one of the bloodiest and most desperately fought battles ever seen here.

DEMOCRATS DIVIDED.

The Original Cleveland Supporters Will Oppose Gray.

The Opposition Will Not be Frightened by the Statement That Indiana May be Ignored.

[Indianapolis News.]

The lack of harmony in the democratic party in Indiana is beginning to be apparent. The office seekers are restless because they do not know whether the "90 per cent." element or the "10 per cent." element is going to control the distribution of the patronage that will come to the state. These office seekers want to be counted with the side that is to parcel out the loaves, and until they have more definite information than they have been able to receive up to this time they will avoid allying themselves with either faction. While the seekers after the smaller officers are trying to find out to whom they must submit their petitions, the men who are out for the offices that are really worth having are getting into a scramble.

The trouble originates over the candidacy of ex-Governor Gray for a cabinet position. There are arrayed on one side ex-Governor Gray, Senator Voorhees, John E. Lamb, Charles L. Jewett, Captain Allen, James Murdock and perhaps Senator Turpie. On the other side are John G. Shanklin, Samuel Morss, John R. Wilson, Jacob P. Dunn, W. C. Ball and perhaps Thomas Taggart. The attempt to cry down the opposition to the candidacy of Gray for a place in the cabinet has not been so successful as the friends of the ex-governor hoped it would be. Indeed, the opposition to him has now become open, and it is said that any and all movements in his interests will be resisted by the original Cleveland contingent. There is gossip among the politicians about the tactics of the ex-governor and his friends. Their first movement after election was to encourage the announcement that the ex-governor had been promised a place in the cabinet; that the promise was made when the ex-governor visited Gray Gables, soon after the Chicago convention. The original Cleveland contingent said, when the announcement was made, that its only object was to scare off whatever opposition to the ex-governor there might be. The opposition said that the ex-governor hoped to bring the solid democracy of the state to his support by getting out the impression that his appointment was a foregone conclusion. But, as the politicians tell the story, this plan did not work. The original Cleveland men saw through the scheme and announced that they would oppose the movement to put the ex-governor in the cabinet. It is now announced that the latest plan of the Gray wing of the party is to decry the opposition to the ex-governor on the ground that unless Indiana walks up to the new president with a solid front it can not hope to receive any reward. It is said that the friends of the ex-governor have been sending out letters to men who are known to be opposed to the ex-governor receiving anything, warning them that, unless they come around to the support of Gray, Indiana will appear before the new administration divided, and will not be given anything. It is said that the original Cleveland men, who are determined that the ex-governor shall not be in the cabinet, do not propose to give way.

For some time after the election the politicians were wondering which wing of the party Senator Turpie would attach himself to when forced to make a choice. It is now current talk among the Indianapolis democrats that the senator will champion the cause of Gray. In doing this, it is said, he will not follow his real wishes, but will be governed by policy, with a view to keeping Gray out of the senatorial race and he knows there is no better way to do it than to keep the ex-governor on the scent of a cabinet position. He will, therefore, it is said, give the ex-governor all the assistance within his power. He chose this course, it is said, soon after Shanklin announced that he (Shanklin) would not enter the senatorial race. Turpie's friends say this is all moonshine, as Turpie's straightforward character gives the lie to it.

There is a good deal of curiosity to know where Chairman Taggart stands. Both sides are claiming him. Those who know the chairman well say that he is an adept at carrying water on both shoulders, and that is what they expect him to do in this case. It is known, however, that all along he has been closer to the original Cleveland crowd than to the Gray-Voorhees people, and it is believed that if he is placed in a position where he has to make an open choice he will go with Shanklin and Morss.

The condition of affairs is most oppressive to the several hundred small fry politicians over the state who can't get an inkling as to who will be in the saddle from the state after the 4th of March. They are for the man, or set of men, who will have influence with the new president.

The social which was to have been given by the Y. W. C. T. U. this evening, has been postponed until Thursday evening and will be given at the residence of Mr. C. J. Winch, 300 Maumee avenue.

Jesse Robertson, of Terre Haute, is in the city.

THE COUNTERFEITERS.

The Preliminary Trial Before Commissioner Leonard.

Little Eva the Observed of All Observers—Many Witnesses From the Suburb of Nebraska Testify.

The examination of witnesses in the counterfeiting cases was continued until a late hour yesterday evening.

District Attorney Smiley N. Chambers, of Indianapolis, appeared for the government, Judge Robert Lowry for Miller, Henry Colerick for Mrs. McCullough, and Henry C. Hanna for Lannager. J. F. Brady, a half-brother-in-law of Lannager, was present from Lagrange and occupied a seat near Judge Lowry. The examination of the girl, Jessie, was first begun. During the examination of the first witness, A. J. Miner, the case was interrupted by Attorney H. C. Hanna, who stated that the girl was without counsel.

The court appointed John Morris, who refused, as did J. B. Harper, who was sent for. Mr. Morris then sent for his father, who arrived about 3 o'clock. Judge Morris held a short consultation with his young client and the case proceeded.

Mr. Miner testified that he saw the little girl at about 7 o'clock in O. W. Siefort's saloon. She bought a cigar for five cents and gave witness $1. He gave her ninety-five cents change and put the money in the drawer. No one was with the child and no one waited for her outside that the witness knew of. His father, W. H. Miner, followed him as keeper at the bar, and he discovered the money to be bogus.

F. W. Seabold, a clerk for F. M. Smaltz, identified the girl. She came in the store about 8 o'clock last Wednesday. She bought five cents worth of elastic. She gave a dollar in coin which proved to be counterfeit. Witness identified defendant. The coin was given to Officer Troutman the following morning.

Fireman Kurtz was in B. L. Post's saloon on Wednesday, between 7 and 8 o'clock. Saw the girl and heard her ask for two cigars for 5 cents, but concluded to take a bottle of beer. Identified the prisoner. Saw her give a dollar in coin and get ninety cents back.

B. L. Post, saloonkeeper, No. 308 West Main street, said defendant had come to his place of business last Wednesday night between the hours of 7 and 8 o'clock. Girl asked for cigars and then bought a bottle of beer. Took a dollar in coin. Did not know it was counterfeit until Officer Troutman called the next morning and got the bogus money.

Henry Truebenbach, a butcher, No. 317 West Main street, identified prisoner. Said she came to his place between 7 and 8 o'clock on Wednesday. She asked for five cents worth of blood pudding. Saw woman outside waiting. Took a dollar in coin and gave the girl, three quarters and two dimes. She asked for a fifty-cent piece instead of the two quarters, and it was given her. He was suspicious of the coin but was not sure it was counterfeit. Identified prisoner and gave Troutman the dollar the next morning.

M. Witzigreuter, a druggist, of No. 231 West Main street, testified that the girl came in his place of business last Wednesday evening between 7 and 8 o'clock. She bought a package of cigarettes and gave a dollar in payment. Witness took dollar and weighed it, being suspicious. It was very light. Knew the girl and told her not to try and pass any such money. Girl had on a hood and tried to hide her face. Saw no one outside waiting.

Martin L. Fox, groceries and dry goods, No. 325 West Main, identified prisoner. Had known her three years. Was in his place Wednesday evening. Mrs. McCullough stood outside looking east, did not see her face. Prisoner asked first for ribbon, then elastic and concluded to take candy cigars. Witnesses' father took the coin, a dollar piece, and put it in drawer. It felt light. Was dated 1886. Identified the dollar by a peculiar scratch on the nose of the Goddess of Liberty. Saw a woman on the outside of the store.

Xavier Hammerle, No. 297 West Main street, saw defendant about 8 o'clock last Wednesday. She came to his place of business and asked for cigars. Took a dollar. Did not notice it. Put it into his pocket. Gave it to Officer Troutman, who called the next morning. Identified prisoner.

Conrad Dreibelbiss, No. 236 West Main street. Identified prisoner. Was in his place of business last Wednesday evening. Prisoner asked for two brands of tobacco which he did not have in stock. She bought a cigar and gave a dollar. Witness gave back ninety-five cents in change. The coin seemed very light. Sounded it on counter and told the girl that it was counterfeit. Plaintiff said she didn't know what counterfeit meant and repeated the word several times. Witness saw woman at the door and went out. Asked the woman if the girl was her daughter. Woman denied knowing her and said: "I don't know that little girl." Woman said she lived on Creighton avenue, No. 301. The girl said she also lived on Creighton avenue. Although both denied knowing each other they went off together. Witness did not take the dollar.

Frank E. Strobe, saloon keeper, No. 341 West Main street. Identified prisoner. She was in his place on last Wednesday night and asked for "twofors," (meaning two cigars for 5 cents) Witness said he had no "twofors." Defendant then took a 5 cent cigar and gave him a dollar in coin. Witness gave back 95 cents in change. Was playing seven-up and put coin in his pocket. Thought the coin rather light and greasy. Gave it to Officer Troutman the next morning.

Mrs. Daniel Hustell, of No. 378 West Main street, was next called. Mrs. Hustell keeps a restaurant. Sold defendant a cigar and gave her back 90 cents change. Thought the coin looked suspicious. Gave it over to Officer Troutman the next morning. Identified prisoner.

Miss Florence Barrett, No. 409 West Main street, sold the defendant a pound of chocolate drops. Was suspicious at the time and hesitated about taking the child's money. Gave her back 80 cents. Took the dollar and gave it out to a Mr. Stover in change. Mr. Stover brought it back in a short time. This was the first witness knew the coin was bad.

Marie Garmaith was in the store with Miss Barrett and testified to substantially the same facts.

Daniel Stager, who works at cigar making for G. F. Sorg, at No. 43 Wells street, took in a bogus dollar last Monday evening. He identified the girl.

G. F. Sorg was next called. He said that he got the money from his clerk on last Tuesday. It was put in the cash drawer.

Officer John Troutman testified that he had been instructed to look up the bogus dollars and visited all the places mentioned by other witnesses. He gave the dollars to Lieutenant Lapp. He identified all the coin.

Lieutenant Lapp was the next witness called. He testified as to the capture of the gang, the full circumstances of which have been printed in THE SENTINEL. He said that when they first entered the house and asked Jessie and Mrs. McCullough where they were the Wednesday evening before, they both declared that they had been visiting a Mrs. Cramer. Witness and Major Carter had visited the jail Saturday evening and the girl claimed to have gotten the money from a stranger. She said she would not give her relations away. (Here Jessie whispered to Judge Morris and then leaned over to District Attorney Chambers and said: "That's not so. I said I would die for my relations before I would give them away.") Lieutenant Lapp further testified that he and Major Carter could get little out of the girl that was satisfactory.

At the conclusion of Lieutenant Lapp's testimony, court was adjourned until 8 o'clock this morning.

During the afternoon session the court room was packed to suffocation by spectators, who did not maintain very good order and Deputy Marshal Abel was instructed several times to keep the crowd quiet. There were also a number of tilts between the counsels.

The case was not called up this morning at 8 o'clock as intended, as Judge Baker expected to hold court until noon and wished to occupy the room. The case is now in progress, having been called at 2 o'clock.

The case of Eiter vs. Laucks, complaint against trustee, is on trial in the circuit court before Judge O'Rourke. Messrs. James M. Robinson and T. W. Wilson appear as attorneys in the case.

The eight-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Daugherty, of Indianapolis, died in that city of spasms. The remains were shipped to this city and the funeral was held at 2:30 this afternoon from the residence of Alfred Daugherty, on Wells street.

The "Tar and Tartar" will be presented at the Temple tonight. The roster comprises sixty-five people, including such clever principals as Annie Myers, who was the great success of the opera when it was originally produced in New York. She was never seen in the part on the road, owing to the fact that Rudolph Aronson gobbled her for his Casino after the furore she created by her singing of "Dixie" in the medley of national and popular airs, which is original and was made famous by this organization. Matilde Cottrelly is also an important member of the company. Everybody knows, or at least should know, this celebrated artist. Her many years with the once famous McCaull opera company gave her a reputation in her peculiar line, which is second to none. Fred Frear, who sustains the role of Muley Hassan, is a comedian of rare powers and infectuous humor. His fun-making always keeps the audience in high spirits, and his singing evokes much applause. The other principals are Charles Weyer, H. M. Ravenscroft and Robert Watson. Besides these there is a chorus of fifty.

LA MAR'S TRIAL.

He is Fined $400 and Sentenced to the Penitentiary.

Judge Baker Suspends the Imprisonment Sentence Upon Good Behavior of Defendant.

There was an affecting scene in the United States court room in the government building this morning. Judge Baker presided. After a few cases had been disposed of the case of the Government vs. Adam LaMar, for violation of sections 5467 and 5469 of the United States postal laws, was called. The circumstances of LaMar's arrest are familiar to our readers.

The young man is but seventeen years of age and was not long since caught taking small sums of money from the mails at the postoffice, where he was employed by Postmaster Higgins as a messenger and to do light work about the office. The court room was crowded with spectators. LaMar was present and looked very crestfallen. He was represented by Messrs. Hanna and Morris. LaMar's father, aunt, sisters and many neighbors were present in the court room. When the case was called Adam came forward and took the stand. His attorneys entered the plea of guilty in his behalf and stated that they wished to introduce evidence showing the previous good character of their client. The first of this evidence was the affidavit of the boy's former school teacher, Mrs. Marion H. Brenton. The affidavit set forth facts that Adam had been a good pupil, faithful, honest and upright and a "real comfort to his teacher." She had never heard any evil of him.

The next witness was Adam's aunt, Mrs. Baldock. The boy was almost a son to her. She thought he must have opened the letters more out of curiosity. His mother had been dead for four years and Adam had been a kind faithful and good boy. Mrs. Baldock was frequently overcome with tears.

Mrs. C. C. Adams, a neighbor, was the next witness. She was also much affected. Mrs. Adams testified to the previous good character of the boy, he has always been honest, had run errands for her and had been entrusted with money which was always carefully returned. "I have nothing but a word of praise for the boy," said Mrs. Adams. Witness did not know the boy's associates lately.

C. C. Adams was next called. He had known the boy from infancy. His character was of the very best. Had talked with Adam since his arrest and the boy had expressed great sorrow at his misdeeds. Witness was no relation to the boy. Did not know his associates.

Charles McCulloch said he had known the boy. Knew his mother, who was an excellent lady. Always thought Adam was a good boy. Did not know his associates. Knew the boy's training since the death of his mother was a good one.

Wm. E. Gerding, the hardware dealer, was next called. Had known the boy for six years past. Had always considered him honest. All his neighbors had known him to have an excellent character. Was greatly surprised at the charge. Had often entrusted the boy with money.

C. H. Waltermath next testified to Adam's good reputation. Lived a half square from the family. Knew the boy's father. Had excellent reputation. Did not know the boy's associates.

Henry Bauer had known Adam eight or nine years. Heard him always spoken of in good terms.

F. J. Miller, the druggist, testified to defendant's previous good character. Had known him some time.

Charles Sosenheimer, city treasurer, knew the defendant. Saw him every day or so. Had known him about eight years. Always considered him a good boy. His family was excellent Did not know his associates.

Three affidavits were produced, but were not read. One was from from W. B. Skelton, a former employer of Adam's; one from James Graham, one from Dr. Miller and one from Dr. Nieswonger. All testified to the boy's previous good character.

C. R. Higgins, postmaster, was next called. Had known the boy since June 1, 1891, when he first employed him as special delivery messenger. He was recommended for the place by Dr. Miller. First noticed complaints of missing mail about four months ago. Since the boy has been arrested the complaints have ceased. He then told of the decoy letters and the subsequent arrest and confession of the defendant.

The prosecution then made a statement setting for the charge and penalties attached giving the sections which covered the case.

Judge Morris then made an eloquent plea for the boy. Many were moved to tears at his words as he plead for clemency for his young, but misguided client. Adam's father sat with his face covered with his handkerchief, quite overcome with sorrow, while his aunt and sisters were also in tears. The boy was also much affected. After the remarks made by the attorneys, Judge Baker told the prisoner to arise to his feet. He said:

"Adam, you have been charged with a serious offense, to which you have plead guilty. It is always difficult for a judge to deal with a case of this kind in a manner with which it ought to be done. There are few in human society so lost and abandoned that punishment does not draw out tears of blood from kindred hearts. You have brought shame and disgrace upon your father and upon the memory of your dead mother, who no doubt looks down from Heaven with that tender solicitude of a mother watching over a wayward son. You have no doubt previously borne a good character, but it is a fearful thing to blight all hope and fond ambitions of your parent and relatives. You are now at a pivotal period in life. You are where the road in life forks. One road leads to saloons, gambling hells, houses of ill-fame, and even farther than that, to the penitentiary and the gallows. The other road leads to a useful life and the character of an upright man. I confess I hardly know what to do. As a man, my heart goes out to the young. As a magistrate I feel that the law has been violated. In the interests of law and order my considerations lead in a different direction. I feel that to send you to the penitentiary would be a cruel blow to your father and friends and would shut the door of good society against you. Your looks show you to be a young man of intelligence and I am disposed to give you an opportunity to make a man of yourself, that you may, if so disposed, grow up to gladden the hearts of your father and relatives. I propose to put you upon such terms that the hands of the court, whose purposes are far reaching, may watch over you and you can not escape. This court has long arms. It reaches into every state and territory. No one can escape it except he become an alien. Your fall is easily traced to evil associates and I warn you of the peril which attends you should you continue in bad company.

THE SENTENCE.

"I shall impose upon you the fine of $400 and imprisonment for two years in the penitentiary. But I shall arrest the execution of the sentence to the penitentiary provided that you abstain from gambling places or keeping company with gamblers and other evil associates. All eyes will be upon you and you shall so direct your future conduct that the court will have no occasion to impose the penalty of imprisonment upon you."

During the delivery of Judge Baker's sentence Adam stood with bowed head and many times was moved to tears. His parents and relatives were also overcome with grief. Many others in the court room were also affected at the eloquent and sterling words of the learned judge.

Court was then adjourned until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

CONGRESSIONAL NEWS.

The Senate Gets Down to Business and Numerous Bills and Resolutions Come Up.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Certificates of election for president and vice president of the United States were presented in the senate from the states of Texas, North Carolina, Alabama, Illinois and Maine, and were ordered to be placed on file. The house amendments to the senate printing bill of last session were presented and non concurred in and a conference was asked.

Among the bills introduced and referred were the following:

By Mr. Gallinger, republican—For the suspension of immigration under certain circumstances; by Mr. Peffer, Kansas, to facilitate promotion in the navy; by Mr. Mitchell, republican, Oregon, to provide for a national encampment of militia at the world's Columbian exposition; by Mr. Cullom, republican, Illinois, to amend the interstate commerce law. He stated that he introduced it by request and because he desired the propositions contained in it to be considered by the inter-state commerce commission; by Mr. Vest, democrat, Missouri, to extend the jurisdiction of the courts in Oklahoma territory and of the United States court in the Indian territory; Mr. Hill, democrat, New York, in presenting a petition in relation to the New York and New Jersey bridge bill said it was very important and asked unanimous consent to have it printed in the congressional record. This request was objected to by Mr. Harris, democrat, of Tennessee. Mr. Daniel, democrat, of Virginia, offered a resolution calling on the civil service commissioners for succinct statement of the government positions that are inside and outside of the civil service rules; the methods of application and examination; the quota of each state filled and vacant and what positions are open to appointment outside of civil service rules, the purpose being to procure in compact form information for the use of those desiring to enter the government service. The resolution went over without action. Mr. Vest's joint resolution for a commission to make an agreement with the five civilized tribes in the Indian territory for taking lands in severalty, was taken up, and Mr. Jones, of Arkansas, argued in favor of referring it to the committee on Indian affairs, which he said, had been considering the subject for several years.

SLOW progress is being made in the compilation of the official vote from the various states.

THE meeting of the city council tonight will be a most important one. The new city hall charter will be under discussion.

WHETHER or not a new city charter is secured well posted citizens state that the metropolitan police system for Fort Wayne is a certainty.

THE Hon. Tom Watson, of Georgia, is back in Washington. He is said to be even better posted on the ingredients of soup than congressional tea.

GOVERNOR RUSSELL, of Massachusetts, says that he did not spend a cent upon his re-election. And yet he is anything but a cheap man in the executive department.

THE only difficulty that prevents the economic law "the greatest good for the greatest number" being put in operation is that so many people think the greatest number is number one.

HON. RICHARD K. ERVIN, of Decatur, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Ervin is representative from Adams county and aspires to the speakership. He was here building up his fences.

GEORGE J. GOULD was paid a big salary for his services to his father. The father gave him $5,000,000 for his work through a period of twelve years, which is equal to a yearly salary of $416,666.

PHIL ARMOUR is the kind of a man to have in a city. He has just made Chicago a Christmas present of $1,500,000 for the building of an institution for teaching the arts and sciences to the young men and women of that city. Good for Phil. We wish he lived in Fort Wayne.

THE last session of the present supreme bench will begin today, and will last two weeks, unless some work is done during the holidays. The apportionment suit will doubtless be decided by the present bench, as it heard the oral argument in the case some weeks ago. Just when the decisions will be handed down is not known, but it will probably be this week or next. There is considerable interest manifested in the case all over the state, and in some localities the result is awaited with anxiety.

JOHN W. COONS, recently defeated for state auditor, has already given his friends to understand that he will be a candidate for renomination in 1894. G. W. Wilson, of Fort Wayne, is also announced as a candidate for this office, on the republican side of the house. The republicans are quite hopeful of success in 1894. They believe that democratic quarrels, engendered by the distribution of patronage, and the usual reaction after a sweeping victory, will be quite helpful to them at the next election.—South Bend Times.

THE threatened invasion of cholera last year alarmed the people of this country pretty generally. Next year, experts say, the danger will be even greater. Cholera strikes harder the second time. The general government has given its officers power to quarantine ships for twenty days at all ports of the country. Congress is looked upon to adopt some measure that will aid the people of the United States to arrest the introduction of this terrible disease. Immigration should be stopped at once and every city and town in America should be put in a good sanitary condition.

THREE CHEERS for congress. The world's fair will be closed on the Sabbath day. This is the opinion of A. T. Britton, world's fair commissioner of the District of Columbia, who is now in Chicago and who was interviewed on the subject by a reporter of the Inter Ocean: "I am just from Washington," said Mr. Britton, "where I have been in the heat of the fight for a repeal of the law closing the fair on Sunday, and I do not believe that the agitation for a repeal of the law will accomplish anything. Congress don't like to do business that way. After it once passes a bill it don't like to repeal it. It is easier to pass an original bill in congress than it is to repeal one and substitute another for it. On this ground alone many congressmen would vote against a repeal of the law. This might be overcome, but there is a stronger force against it in another direction. Petitions and delegations are pouring into Washington from all parts of the country against the opening of the fair on Sunday, and not many congressmen are going to vote against the wishes of their constituents. I think the mistake was made in the beginning. The fight should have been continued a little longer, and I believe that those in favor of an open Sunday would have won, but I believe that the matter is now settled. The directors agreed to keep the fair closed on Sundays on condition that they receive the grant of $2,500,000. In the face of that it is hardly to be expected that congress will repeal the law."

Great Telescopes.

Attention is called to the fact that the history of the great telescopes at Mount Hamilton and at Washington will serve to lay away finally a widely published opinion which we used to hear repeated every few weeks—namely, that great telescopes are of little use. The work of these two great telescopes (not to speak of many others) has conclusively shown their great superiority over less powerful instruments in every field of astronomy, in the observation of planets, nebulæ, stars, comets, satellites, in spectroscopy, and also in those departments of astronomical photography for which they are adapted. Smaller instruments have their appropriate fields, and in some of these they will always be more convenient than larger ones. But the great telescope, when properly used, is and will always be preeminent.

THE prominence of electricity in chemical processes is again brought forward by the announcement of the discovery of a new electric process for obtaining caustic soda, chlorine and other commercial chemicals from salt water. Electro chemical industries already well established include such important branches as the reduction of aluminum and aluminum alloys, bleaching, tanning and the extraction of metals from ore. Should this new process prove wholly successful, it is expected to reduce the price of these commercial chemicals one-half. The water of the sea will then be the "raw material" from which these products are derived, and tariff discussion about them can be stopped.

ONE of the wedding presents of a Denver bride a few days ago was a confederate battle flag, bullet riddled and faded. During the war her father, Capt. Johnson, with his command marched through Alabama, and about ten miles from Huntsville captured a confederate flag. Nearly thirty years after, or about a year and a half ago, he revisited the scene accompanied by his fair daughter, and remained for a time in Huntsville. There it was that Miss Johnson formed the acquaintance of the groom of last week who retaliates by taking the flag back to those from whom it was captured and with it a bride for himself.

THE limit of natural vision varies with elevation, condition of the atmosphere, intensity of illumination, and other modifying elements. On a clear day an object one foot above a level plain may be seen at a distance of 1.31 miles; one 10 feet in height, 4.15 miles; one 20 feet high, 5.86 miles; one 100 feet high, 13.1 miles; one a mile high (as the top of a mountain), 95.23 miles. This allows 7 inches, or, to be more exact, 6.99 inches, to the mile for the curvature of the earth, and assumes that the size and illumination of the object are sufficient to produce an image.

TWENTY-EIGHT Indiana farmers' wives and daughters have organized a literary society called the Mary-Martha club, which meets once a week the year round at the homes of members. Their printed programme is excellent. The young girls in the families of these club women are enrolled as associate members, and are thus early identified as audience in study and recreation with mothers and elder sisters. There ought to be a great deal more of this kind of clubbing.

A DIAMOND wedding anniversary is a rarity, but Ira and Hannah Crampton Ward, of New Haven, Vt., have spent seventy-five years of married life together, and the event was duly celebrated recently. Nine of their ten children are living, and six were present. Four of their grandchildren were present, and five of their twenty-four great-grandchildren. Mr. Ward was born April 9, 1796, and Mrs. Ward was born October 11, 1798.

A GERMAN chemist is authority for the statement that apples contain more phosphorous than any other fruit or vegetable; for this reason, as well as because the apple contains several acids, noticeably malic acid, it is an excellent brain food and remedy against the ills that come of sedentary habits and rich food.

YALE university has fared very well in the matter of bequests and donations during the past year. The amount received has been estimated at half a million dollars.

ADVERTISING is like learning. A little is dangerous. In every newspaper man's experience the largest advertiser is most permanent and finds least fault with the bills.

JUST before the sermon the other evening in a Cambridge, Mass., church, the electric lights went out. But they were not imitated in that respect by the congregation. On the contrary everybody stayed and listened to the pastor while he threw light on the subject he had chosen for his sermon.

CONTROL of the Panama railroad has quietly but certainly passed from the hands of Americans to those of Frenchmen, with the result that we are now in that quarter at the mercy of the blooming foreigner. The Monroe doctrine, which was enunciated when this railroad was building, appears to have become inoperative.

THE citizen of the republic who would assail his fellow citizen because he differs from him in his conception concerning religious practice in this world and possibility of life beyond mortality is unworthy of residence in a republic which has wisely ordained that as all men are free politically, so religiously they are free.

RUMOR has it that King Charles of Roumania will abdicate June 1 in favor of Prince Ferdinand, who is soon to be married to Princess Marie. King Charles and Carmen Sylva will have a combined civil list of $180,000 annually and the king's private income is $350,000. What a poetess and a book collector, with a joint income of $530,000, want of a kingdom is, indeed, hard to see.

THE recent arrest in London of a young girl of good family and position for pawning silverware obtained on false pretenses from a jeweler points once more the old moral of small incomes and large ambitions. To those two vitiating influences, idleness and extravagance in living, must be traced such shocking occurrences as these which are every now and then appearing in circles where they seem wholly anomalous at first sight.

THE generosity recently exhibited by the people of the states in behalf of the sufferers in St. Johns, Newfoundland, from fire, a generosity that footed up to $350,000, will not in any way tend to cool the heated desire long current in Newfoundland to come under the protection of the American flag. Even the elements conspire to bring about annexation. Aid was never extended to a worthier and more self-helpful people than are the people of Newfoundland.

A WOMAN buys a ticket of accident insurance. Perhaps an accident occurs, and it may be that she has a limb broken. It may be that she has two limbs broken or is made blind for life; then let her produce the little card for which she paid her money thinking that she was as good as anybody else. She will find that the ticket says: "Except that this ticket insures females against death only." What is she going to do about it more than to ask why a woman cannot be insured as well and on the same terms as a man?

BARON WALTER of Hungary offered to trade his title for a wife. It was not much of a title, but an opera singer snapped it up. She said she was twenty-seven and had 300,000 florins. In reality she was forty-two, had not a florin, and her voice was cracked numerously and to a considerable depth. Now the baron wants a divorce, and for the sake of getting it proclaims how unique and pre-eminent is his position among unasylumed dotards. He will probably be on the market soon again.

IT sounds strange to those who regard Bible lands as little changed from 1800 years ago to hear that the short railroad from Jaffa (called Joppa in the Scriptures) to Jerusalem has been completed. Its track runs within half a mile of Bethlehem. Until recently the Holy Land has been little different from what it was in ancient times, but it will not be long now before it will be impossible to revive the scenes of olden times by revisiting the land where they occurred. It will be easier doubtless to visit Jerusalem now, but when it becomes like Boston or New York the special charm that attracted most of its visitors will have vanished.

EASTERN newspapers are amazed at the temerity of a Western journal in alluding to New York as "the metropolis of the East." Well, there is room in the West for half a dozen "metropoles" surpassing Gotham in wealth and population and they are coming with rapid strides.

A LIFE prisoner in the Idaho penitentiary has just fallen heir to a fortune, a circumstance that seems to be regarded as mitigation after the fact, something new and interesting in law. Of course the jury that found him guilty of murder had no way of knowing that he would one day be rich and innocent.

THE digester of a paper mill in Maine exploded a few days ago to the wrecking of the mill and the killing of three workmen. Incidental knowledge as to the duties of digesters in general leads to the conclusion that mechanical dyspepsia is fully as undesirable as the sort produced by indulgence in pie.

James Ragland is petitioning the commissioners of Putnam county for licenses to sell liquor at Bainbridge and Cloverdale, and citizens of both sexes are united in strenuous opposition. Neither of these villages has licensed saloons, and the innovation is not wanted.

James H. Starke, of Montgomery county, whom a jury in Putnam county mulcted in $1,000 damages for slandering Miss Emma Connor, a school teacher, has applied for a new trial. He makes sport of the possibility of Miss Connor realizing on the verdict, claiming that all of his property is in his wife's name, and has been for years.

Jacob Cross, of Huntington, indicted for criminally assaulting a little girl, was sentenced to twelve years' imprisonment. He appealed to the supreme court and was granted a new trial. Then he took a change of venue to Grant county, and as the result of a second trial the jury fixed his punishment at ten years' imprisonment. He will again appeal to the supreme court.

Mrs. Bert Northern, of Centertown, died Friday night. Her body was burned almost to a crisp, on Thursday, by her clothing catching on fire while she was dressing a child before a fireplace. After her clothing became ignited she rushed out of the house, and her clothing had to be torn off of her or she would have been roasted alive. Mrs. Northern was the seventeen-year-old daughter of George Lear, and she had been married but five weeks.

NOON REST.

Lunch Served From 11 to 2 and 5 to 7 o'clock During the Next Week.

Owing to the rush of business during the week just preceding the holidays, the officers of the Noon Rest have decided to keep open their rooms at both the noon hour and supper hour. Lunches will be served from 11 to 2 o'clock and from 5 to 7 o'clock.

The Noon Rest is now in a flourishing condition, being almost self-supporting. The ladies interested in the enterprise will in a short time add easy chairs and couches to the furniture of the room and thus make it a still more attractive place in which to spend the noon hour.

GOOD TIME FOR THE YOUNG.

The Young Women's Christian Temperance Union.

The young ladies of the social department of the Y. W. C. T. U. will insure a jolly time for those who will wend their way to the home of the Misses Winch, 300 Maumee avenue, Thursday evening. The society have recently taken in a number of new members who are anxious to have it prosper and who would like to have as many young people come as can. A series of unique games will be played.

Success of the Southern Ball League.

The success of the Southern league must be gratifying to every lover of the game. The South is a good field for the sport if it is honestly and earnestly played. Several seasons in late years questionable methods practiced by magnates and players of Southern league clubs almost destroyed confidence and interest in the game through that section. The high plane on which the league this year did business and the undoubted interest manifested by the people in every city assure a revival of baseball in the Southern States, which can be made permanent by a continuation of this year's policy.—Sporting Life.

Stimulate the Blood.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS are the great blood purifier. They are a purgative and blood tonic, they act equally on the bowels, the kidneys, and the skin, thus cleansing the system by the natural outlet of the body—they may be called the purgative sudorific and diuretic medicine. They stimulate the blood so as to enable nature to throw off all morbid humors, and cure disease no matter by what name it may be called. One or two of them every night will prove an infallible remedy.

Sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar coated.

Lincoln Tea cleanses the system effectively, dispells colds, headaches, and cures habitual constipation.

A Use for Seaweed.

Among the various industrial and chemical uses of seaweed none is more interesting, perhaps, than its utilization in the production of the well-known litmus paper. For this purpose there is used the common rocella, which is found in all tropical seas, but particularly and abundantly in the Mediterranean, being, in fact, a lichen which grows on the rocks in the water and near the shore. The litmus is prepared by macerating the plant in water with lime, potash, and other substances, and leaving it in this condition until fermentation follows. On this taking place it first turns red and then blue, and on the whole mass becoming of the desired blue color, it is pressed into a mould and made into small rectangular cakes, which have the appearance of indigo and the smell of violets. In producing the litmus an infusion of the latter is made with boiling water, and unsized paper is soaked in this, being afterward dried. The natural color of the paper is blue; the red litmus is made by treating the preparation with acids so as to give it a reddish tinge.

The mystery has been solved at last;
Our teeth no longer need decay,
All troubles of the mouth are past,
By SOZODONT they're swept away;
And young and old may smile secure
With lips and teeth so bright and pure.

LYON & HEALY, CHICAGO.

Twenty-seven years ago a family named Thornton, of Frankfort, cared for a strange lady during her accouchement, and assumed care of the child, a girl. The mother disappeared as silently as she came. For several months remittances came, and then ceased altogether. The Thornton family then transferred the little one to the county asylum, and the infant was afterward adopted by William Brant. She grew to womanhood, and at the time of her marriage to Clinton Gossard she was put in possession of the meagre facts of her early history. Mrs. Gossard then began a search for her parents, and the evidence now points to the fact that she is the daughter of William McFarland, a wealthy old bachelor, of Lewiston, Mont. Mr. McFarland has arranged to pay her a visit, and if she is his daughter, Mrs. Gossard will be formally recognized.

To Prevent the Grip

Or any other similar epidemic, the blood and the whole system should be kept in healthy condition. If you feel worn out or have "that tired feeling" in the morning, do not be guilty of neglect. Give immediate attention to yourself. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla to give strength, purify the blood and prevent disease.

Hood's Pills cure liver ills, jaundice, biliousness, sick headache, constipation.

Robert Cory, of Syracuse, died of hydrophobia. He was bitten by a mad dog over one year ago.

A Dangerous Deadlock

Occurs when the sieve-like action of the kidneys is interrupted, and they partially cease to secrete from the blood those impurities for the escape of which they are such important channels. Bright's disease, diabetes, suppression of the urine, and weakness and inaction of the bladder—these are complaints to the relief of which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is admirably adapted. These ailments unchecked are very formidable, and the utility of a recourse to this fine remedy and preventive cannot be pleaded with too much insistence. The Bitters is likewise efficacious in an incomparable degree for malaria, indigestion, costiveness, rheumatism and debility. In neuralgia it has proven itself a sovereign medium of relief.

A Chapter of Accidents, Incidents and Personal Gossip as Gathered by Our Reporter.

R. Smith, blacksmith at the Bass works, is sick and off duty.

Boilermaker H. Geerken is repairing a boiler at Upper Sandusky for the Pennsylvania company.

Freight Clerk Smith, of the Lake Shore warehouse, is sick and has gone to his home, in Michigan.

The Columbian express was forty-five minutes late today. No. 1 was also considerably behind time.

George Bradley is at his post of duty in the electric light works again after a severe tussle with neuralgia.

The electric light company shipped two dynamos to Kansas City today to add to a large plant already in operation.

Joseph Kuger and C. C. Craig, of Foreman Cook's department of the electric light works, are sick and off duty.

Henry Zauner left yesterday for Galion, Ohio, where he will repair an engine in that city's electric light station.

The second section of Pittsburg train No. 3 was loaded with emigrants this morning. There were 170 people in the party.

William Block and Thomas Greaney have returned from Van Wert, where they were sent by the Bass company to repair a boiler.

J. J. Gidley has resumed his old position in the Electric Light works after a few days absence, during which he attended a funeral.

The class X engine No. 270, which was in the Shreve wreck several weeks ago, left the Fort Wayne shops today thoroughly repaired.

George Littot has recovered from a severe attack of erysipelas, and this morning resumed work in the factory of Rhinesmith & Simonson.

Charles Norman, late of the Baltimore and Ohio shops at Garrett City, Ind., has moved to this city and taken a position in the Pittsburg machine shop.

T. J. Babcock, engineer at the Electric Light works, was honored last night by being elected colonel of the local branch of the Union Veteran legion.

J. J. Wood, chief electrician at the Electric Light works, has such a severe cold that he cannot speak above a whisper. He is at his duties as usual, however.

Vice President James McCrea, of the Pennsylvania company, and party passed through the city in special Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis car 37 last night.

Ed Scheckler this morning returned to his work in the Bass machine shop after an absence of three weeks on account of the illness of his wife. Mrs. Scheckler is improving.

Adolph Fromuth, who was at Conneaut, Ohio, setting up an engine in the Nickel Plate shops, has completed the work and returned to the city. He works for the Bass company.

Nickel Plate Conductors T. Bell and Farland have returned to their duties on the road, after a few days' rest. Those conductors now on the off duty list are Messrs. Smith, Sommers and Makepeace.

George Hewitt, the flagman on Pittsburg freight train No. 79, fell from the platform of the caboose at Hadley early this morning and wrenched his back so severely that he had to leave his run and come home. He came in on the Plymouth accommodation train this morning and is now at his home. His injuries are not so severe but that he can walk about slowly.

The large trip hammer in the Bass blacksmith shop, broke down yesterday at 9 o'clock. It is in operation again today, however.

Owing to the heavy increase in business on the Nickel Plate road, another switch engine and crew has been placed in operation at this point.

Mrs. Daniel Brown, wife of the boilermaker in the Wabash shops, has returned from a two weeks' visit with relatives in Hillsdale, Mich.

J. K. McCracken, general manager of the Louisville, St. Louis and Texas railroad, paid his regular semi-monthly visit to his family Sunday, leaving yesterday for Louisville.

The Nickel Plate brakemen's absentee list is as follows: Abrams, sick; G. E. Townsend, vacation; Witcraft, sick; Shisler, rest, and Cavenaugh, sick. Brakemen Gormley, McVeigh and Boyd have reported for duty.

Three car loads of fine yearling horses passed through this city on Pittsburg passenger train No. 4 this morning. The animals come from the Leland Stanford stables, in California, and are en route to New York.

Pittsburg round house report: Engineer J. B. Lease, sick; Fireman D. Leisure, off on account of business; Fireman J. Strasser, sick. Those who returned to work after an absence were Firemen J. L. Wilson, D. W. Shed and H. E. Wagner.

A slight wreck occurred in the east Pittsburg yards this morning. Grand Rapids engine No. 205, Engineer Lopshire at the throttle, ran into a couple of freight cars, smashing the front end of the locomotive in and derailing and breaking one of the cars.

The Pittsburg car shop did not start in operation yesterday as stated. They will be started at noon today, however, and will run until 12 o'clock tonight and until 9 o'clock each evening this week. The break in the mud drum under the boiler is the cause of all the delay.

P. C. Harlan has taken the position of chief clerk in Master Mechanic Mitten's office in the Lake Erie and Western railway shops in this city. This is the position resigned by William Search when he accepted the chief clerkship in the Nickel Plate shops. Mr. Harlan was formerly night operator and transfer clerk at the Lake Shore depot.

J. Beugnot, formerly of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, is now employed in the machine department under Foreman Hugh Hogan. Mr. Gans took Beugnot's position in Trythall's crew and William Hayes took the place in Opaz's gang made vacant by Mr. Gans. Charles Robertson took a position as hammer boy in the blacksmith shop this morning.

Engineer Lohrman, whose accidental injury was mentioned in yesterday's Sentinel, is getting along nicely under the care of Dr. J. E. Miller. The accident happened at Kosciusko, a little town seven miles east of Warsaw. The instrument which did the damage to Mr. Lohrman's face was the coal hook on the passing engine, which was projecting from the side of the tank.

Hiram O. Crosby, a clerk in the Pittsburg freight office, slipped and fell on the icy pavement this morning and received serious injuries to his back and shoulders. The accident happened near the corner of Calhoun and Pontiac streets, where Mr. Crosby resides, and he was assisted back home by the clerks in Limecooley's grocery. The unfortunate man is suffering from the effects of a gunshot wound received while in the army and this may retard his recovery.

Several changes occurred yesterday in the working force in the electric light works. Cheney Knight was transferred from the incandescent to the arc light department and A. A. Eakins was transferred from the winding room to the incandescent testing department. Both of these changes are in line of promotion and after the gentlemen complete the rounds of the various departments they will be sent out to set up machinery and install electric light plants.

In a recent lecture on "Fixed Stars" Dr. David Gill wanted to give an illustration of the distance to Centauri. This is what he said as reported in the Boston Globe: "We shall suppose that some wealthy directors for want of outlet for their energy and capital constructed a railway to Centauri. We shall neglect, for the present, the engineering difficulties—a mere detail—and suppose them overcome and the railway open for traffic. We shall go further, and suppose that the directors have found the construction of such a railway to have been peculiarly easy, and that the proprietors of interstellar space had not been exorbitant in their terms for right of way. Therefore, with a view to encourage traffic, directors have made the fare exceedingly moderate, viz.: first class at two cents per 100 miles. Desiring to take advantage of these facilities, a gentleman, by way of providing himself with small change for the journey, buys up the national debt of England and a few other countries, and, presenting himself at the office, demands a first class single to Centauri. For this he tenders in payment the scrip of the national debt of England, which just covers the cost of his ticket; but at this time the national debt from little wars had been run up from $3,500,000,000 to $5,500,000,000. Having taken his seat it occurred to him to ask: 'At what rate do you travel?' 'Sixty miles an hour, sir, including stoppages,' is the answer. 'Then when shall we reach Centauri?' 'In 48,663,000 years, sir!'"

As a preventive of the Grip Hood's Sarsaparilla has grown into great favor. It fortifies the system and purifies the blood.

W. J. Keller, of Toledo, Lake Shore freight agent, was in the city last evening.

Bad Blood

is at the bottom of many a feud, and the cause of strife and murder. It's also the root of all ailments of the body. Good blood nourishes and bad blood poisons, therefore take Simmons Liver Regulator to keep the liver active, the bowels free, and promote digestion. This done, your blood will be good, the system free from malarial poison and rheumatism.

Card of Thanks.

The undersigned beg leave to acknowledge their sincere thanks for the manifold signs of sympathy shown on the occasion of the interment of the remains of their late son and brother, Robert Fiegel, by the great number of friends and acquaintances. Especially our thanks are due to the members of Concordia Lodge, of I. O. O. F., who, with brotherly love, attended to the deceased during his protracted illness, as well as to the Rev. Schaaf, for his consolatory oration at the funeral service.

In the name of the bereaved family.

Krause's Headache Capsules—Warranted.

Lack of Exercise

Is one of the prime causes of headache in the winter. Persons accustomed to the pure fresh air during the pleasant months are subject to this terrible annoyance at this time of the year. A boon is offered in Krause's Headache Capsules, which is guaranteed to cure any kind of a headache no matter what the cause. Page's Climax Salve is truly the woman's friend, as no woman can have broken breasts or sore nipples while she uses this salve. Try it.

A DISTURBANCE

isn't what you want, if your stomach and bowels are irregular. That's about all you get, though, with the ordinary pill. It may relieve you for the moment, but you're usually in a worse state afterward than before.

This is just where Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do most good. They act in an easy and natural way, very different from the huge, old-fashioned pills. They're not only pleasanter, but there's no reaction afterward, and their help lasts. One little sugar-coated pellet for a gentle laxative or corrective—three for a cathartic. Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Dizziness, Sick and Bilious Headaches, are promptly relieved and cured.

They're the smallest, the easiest to take—and the cheapest pill you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.

You pay only for the good you get.

A remarkable suit has been filed at Jeffersonville. Some weeks ago Kate Harbin, the fourteen-year-old evangelist, formed a church at Connersville. The members ordained B. F. York, and, as a minister, he married Samuel Rose and Lottie Witte and others. Now comes William Johnson, a blind preacher, and accuses York of marrying people without clerical authority. The penalty for such an act is heavy. If found guilty, the condition of all whom he has married will be very embarrassing

This morning the young child of Mr. and Mrs. William Gouty, of 155 Archer avenue, pushed a grain of corn up her nose—too far up for the mother to reach or see it. She immediately took the child to the Stackhouse medical institute, where, after some little difficulty, it was successfully removed and the baby sufferer made happy.

Thirty years ago today occurred the battle of Fredericksburg, Va. Hon. S. M. Hench, of this city, was one of the union soldiers in that battle and received several serious wounds. While to the judge it is an anniversary, it is not a very pleasant one.

The guests from abroad at the informal hop given last evening by the members of the Standard club were Miss Lena Victor, of St. Marys, Ohio; Mesdames Meyer and Frankenburg, of Toledo, Ohio. Reienecke's orchestra furnished music for the dancing. Miss Victor has a very pleasing soprano voice and during the evening sang several selections.

The sterioptican lecture at the Second Presbyterian church last evening was attended by a large number of our people and all were deeply interested. The subject was "Lands of the Midnight Sun" and the manner in which Rev. Leeper handled it proved that he had given the subject much thought. The next entertainment of this kind will be given February 6, when Rev. Leeper will lecture on "Picturesque America."

The Garfield L. L. club gave an interesting entertainment in their rooms at 139 East DeWald street. The audience was very large and the following program was well carried out. Recitation by Arthur Greenich; debate on the question, "Should immigration be restricted?" by Mr. Ferris for the negative and Mr. Greenich the affirmative. The question was decided in favor of the negative. A general discussion on the subject of immigration followed. The entertainment closed with a magic lantern exhibition by Prof. Ferris.

The Richmond Palladium says: "There were five Arabian peddlers here the other day who came from Dayton expecting to meet their brother, who was traveling through the country. The latter failed to show up and so one of them wrote him a letter saying they had gone on to Fort Wayne. This letter was given, unsealed, to Officer Kuhlman, who gave it to the brother the next day when he came in town. He read the letter, handed it back and left for Fort Wayne. The letter looks like hieroglyphics and did not need to be sealed to keep it from being read."

The directors of the Relief Union feel an explanation is due the public for the closing of their office during the past week. At the last meeting of the society the superintendent asked for and was granted a leave of absence on account of sickness in her family. It was voted to ask Miss McLachlan to act as superintendent. By some mistake there was a failure to send her notice of this action, and for several mornings the office was not open. Arrangements are now made to have Miss McLachlan in attendance at the office every morning from 10 to 12. If the outside work is not as regularly done as usual, the directors can only say that it is almost impossible for a novice to fill the place of one who has had the experience of Miss Eckels. The directors regret the break in the work at this season, but it is unavoidable.

Last Thursday afternoon a delightful family reunion took place at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs John Cook in Wallen, Ind., a large number of friends and neighbors had been invited to join the family and partake of the twenty pound turkey served at dinner, but many were unable to be present on account of the bad weather and sickness in the family. A Christmas Set.

Call upon the undersigned when shopping for Store or Auction Teeth. I am known as "OLD SNATCHOUT," The Dental Rubber "Biler."

For the holidays I pull teeth gratis, that is, for nothing. I may be a back number at preserving teeth, but I have a natural gift as the son of a snatcher.

Beware of Dr. Jerkout! He has been expelled from all Dental Societies for unprofessional conduct, and never associates with tooth doctors of my class.

Teeth mounted on Hard Boiled Rubber, $6 to $8, according to size. Teeth on "Porcelain" Plate given as a cromo.

Teeth extracted while you wait, using my invention, Petrissage, to put the gums to sleep.

Remember,

Dr. SNATCHOUT,

The Boiled Rubber Auction Dentist,

Parlors,

In Bombast Block.

Among Many Testimonials Read the Following:—

MY DEAR DR. SNATCHOUT:

Excuse delay in keeping my promise. Just out from a six weeks' sickness, caused by your Gum Sleeping Petrissage, ("gum sloughing," I call it.) I testify, as in the bargain, that the teeth flew out as fast as a hen picks up corn. No hurt.
